

Andrew Shefford

Professional Experience

- Andrew is a Managing Director in KPMG in the UK and is global Head of IT Internal Audit
- Andrew has led the development of the firm's thought leadership on Artificial Intelligence in the area of risk and controls
- Andrew has published several articles on the firm's website and is a regular presenter on conferences on various IT audit most recently addressing AI risk and control issues
- Recent projects have included leading an IT control environment gap analysis and remediation project, leading IT risk assessments and developing IT audit plans for a number of clients, providing IT input to External Quality Reviews, helping Internal Audit teams along the data analytics maturity curve, overseeing specialist technology related audits including independent programme assurance, cyber security, general IT controls and SOX compliance reviews
- After graduation, Andrew joined the UK National Audit Office in London and trained as an accountant and an IT auditor, with clients including the United Nations, government departments and national museums and galleries. Following a year in industry as an IT Audit Manager, he joined EY's Information Systems Assurance & Advisory Services and worked in financial services, corporate clients and leading EY's software licensing and IT Asset Management Practice
- In 2011 Andrew joined KPMG to lead the UK IT Internal Audit practice, and was promoted to Managing Director in 2014. He has led substantial growth in the practice

Industry and sector experience

- Global Corporates
- Central Government and International Organisations
- Insurance and Investment Management

