

Tamásné Vőneki Zsuzsanna

Tamásné Vőneki Zsuzsanna graduated on Corvinus University of Budapest.

Her carrier started at financial risk management area of Magyar Telekom, and then in the year 2000 she became the leader of the newly established enterprise risk management department. She was responsible for implementation, evaluation of risk management system and for business continuity planning of the group as well.

Currently, after taking MBA degree, she leads the Operational Risk Department of OTP Group, the leader participant of Hungarian banking sector, operating in nine countries.

Zsuzsa is responsible for running the risk and crisis management activities of the bank group and the for the business continuity management. In 2013 under her direction the OTP's oprisk area succeeded to implement Advanced Measurement Approach for capital calculation after operational risk.

She often held workshops and presentations about enterprise and operational risk management. In 2015 she started her PhD studies at Corvinus University of Budapest.